Hello,

I am happy to be offering Painting: Still Life and Landscape at Ghost Ranch this summer. I look forward to meeting you and making some paintings in Abiquiu, Northern New Mexico: one of my favorite places in the world.

This workshop is flexible, and I welcome beginner, intermediate, and advanced painters. I will start the day with short demonstrations, offering basic instruction and tips, and we will end the day with conversation. In between, students will have time to explore and grow at their own pace. Beginners will gain a wealth of knowledge and experience, while advanced painters will have the opportunity to continue and expand upon their practice.

Please feel free to reach out with any questions you might have.
