July 6-12, 2025

Welcome to Journaling Through Watercolor,

This workshop is designed to show you how to use watercolor painting to journal. How to keep notes on color formulations to notes on everything in-between, or let the painting tell its own story. We'll focus on drawing skills, color theory and value study. I will go over basic design elements. This is a five-day class, with demonstrations and exercises. This supply list will allow you to travel and create, without lugging around your studio. This workshop is for beginners to intermediate. The most important thing to remember for this workshop, is to have fun! Please bring everything in the supply list. I look forward to meeting you.

If you have questions, do not hesitate to call me.
